Down through the decades, graduating Hilhi students have looked back upon high school life and sought to capture and hold in their minds the one thing that would make the memory of Hilhi clear and vivid throughout the years ahead.

To us it seems that the one thing most likely to be remembered is the outstanding school spirit shown not only by this year's student body but also by the student bodies in the past. Who of us can forget the pride with which we students viewed the accomplishments of our fellow Spartans--the band winning the Rose parade marching contest; the Speech squad consistently winning first place so that none of us can remember what it was like, not to

Glenda,

 Don't ever forget it —

 sweet as you are now — have the top Speech squad in the state; the Hilhi drama department being chosen out of many departments in our area to present Shakespeare before a critical audience in Portland; the great football, basketball, wrestling, and track teams that have added laurel wreaths to Hilhi's crown of victories. We cannot forget these accomplishments, nor can we forget the spirit that made such accomplishments possible.

So, it is with a feeling of pride that we dedicate this year book to Hilhi's spirit and to the totem pole and to the Spartan, pictured above, which have always been the symbols of that spirit.

Hi!
 Well, I see you made it through

This is a time of farewell for you graduating seniors, a goodbye to each other, to your teachers, and for many, to formal education. To others this is only a step forward in your education. To both groups we express the hope that you have prepared yourselves in every way possible to meet the challenges of the world which you have inherited.

You graduating seniors and underclassmen will find American democracy as never before challenged, which places inescapable obligations on the youth of today. We hope you are ready to meet this ever changing world and carry on the ideals of our American heritage.

John T. Jensen, Superintendent

Administration

As a civic duty, the members of the school board spend many hundreds of hours each year taking care of the major problems which affect the community, students, and administration of Hillsboro. The board carries out the decisions and policies which represent the communities viewpoints, approves the budget and expenditures, and protects the taxpayers' money. Members are from left: Dr. R. E. Hutchinson, a local physician who has been on the board since 1953; Mr. Vern Smith, a Hillsboro merchant who was elected in May, 1961; Mr. Herman Meierjurgan, who is retired, has been on the board since 1960; Mr. Minor Hesse, chairman, was appointed in 1957; Mr. Roland Hornecker, who is serving his second term and is in real estate; and Mrs. Wilma Merrill, who has served as clerk of the board for 17 years.

It has been our pleasure to be closely associated with the members of the senior class during the past four years. It is our sincere hope that Hillsboro Union High School has given you sufficient knowledge and skills to provide you with the background needed in your future endeavors.

As a class you have developed both scholastically and socially, and have acquired many achievements. We wish you success and happiness in the years to come.

James D. Davis; Bachelors degree, Lewis and Clark college; Masters degree, Oregon State University

Administration

I have been clerk of the district since 1942, with the exception of three years ('48, '49, '50). As clerk, I have served as accountant for the district, handling over eight hundred thousand dollars during the school year. One of the clerk's most gratifying duties, along with the chairman of the Board and Superintendent, is signing the diplomas for the graduating class.

Wilma Merrill, Clerk

There is a part of education that cannot be found in books or lectures. This part is found in our relationships with other people. Learning to get along with others, being responsible citizens, carrying our fair share of the load are all goals that Hillsboro students work toward as a part of their education that will be of value for many years to come.

W. Ray Carder, B. S., Ed. M., Oregon State University

Counselors

Mr. Richard Johnson is Dean of Boys and advisor of Boys' League. He has a Bachelor of Science degree and a Master of Education degree from the University of Oregon.

Miss Josephine Culbertson is Dean of Girls and advisor of Girls' League. She has a Bachelor of Science degree from Oregon State University and a Masters degree in guidance counseling from University of Portland.

Both Mr. Johnson and Miss Culbertson help students in educational, vocational, and personal counseling.

Seniors

In the future, in the minds of this year's group of Hilhi seniors, several moments may well stand out as the brightest of them all to the class of '62.

Among these happy moments we should certainly include Liz Messer's winning the "Miss Merry Christmas" crown for the seniors. Liz won the coveted title in a walk, her votes being more than double that of her closest opponent.

Also ranking high in the senior's memories was the presence at Hilhi of Hector Squassi, foreign exchange student from Argentina. Hector was sponsored by the senior class, and he lived, during the school year, with senior Roger Neu's family.

Nor are the seniors likely to forget when the class of '62 won first place in the skit competition for Rally Week. The applause brought on by the skit concerning a mock trial based upon hilarious but fictitious facts about the Clackamas game, might well have been the greatest accolade won by the seniors as a class.

For this year's graduating group there were unforgettable days, among them, dress-up day, senior assembly, and the senior party.

Fine Arts

The study of fine arts covers a variety of courses that are optional for Hilhi students. Journalism is offered to students for one year, and is a foundation for future work on either the annual or paper staff if the student wishes to help produce these publications.

In two years of drama, it is possible to learn acting, the art of making and transporting scenery, and the methods of Journalism, a preparatory course offered to all sophomores, juniors, and seniors, is taken by Steve Dimeo, junior, and Sharon Rose, sophomore, who are writing an interpretative news-feature.

Lynne Grau, Dave Holmes, Jim Joyce, Thom Whitaker, seniors; Maryann Baldwin, junior; and Miss Baldwin, drama teacher, are studying American musical comedy.

Fine Arts

applying stage make-up.

Art, also offered for two years, includes the study of color combination, prospective drawing, and portrait painting as well as detailed work in each of these areas.

It is possible for girls to take three years of Home Economics to learn the basics of cooking, sewing, and child care.

After a year of speech, a student can study Forensics when he is a junior and senior.

Mrs. Truax shows first year Home Ec. student how to sew the center back of a blouse. All first year students are required to make a blouse and skirt using Bishop techniques.

Adeline Wallender, junior, beats bananas which will eventually be ingredients used in banana bread. Third year Home Ec. students are required to do some quantity cookery, foreign cookery, meals for two, budgets, food preservation, table setting, and etiquette.

"I killed him," utters Elsie Garland, junior Forensics student, while giving a serious reading from Gone with the Wind.

English

As our country rises to new heights and new ideals, English becomes more important to every citizen. So it is at Hilhi; English is a four year required course.

As freshmen students study a different aspect of English through parliamentary procedure and Great Expectations. As sophomores they read Shakespeare's Julius Caesar, and as juniors cover American literature. Seniors, besides reading Macbeth, receive preparatory study

Miss Brown's English class listens intently as she reviews the high points of Shakespeare's play, Macbeth. Plays of this type have been taught for generations in English Literature classes.

Judy Rickards, Tom Zurcher, Robert Rose, and Stevie Schwenn scan college bulletins in Miss Brown's English class in preparation for next year's studies.

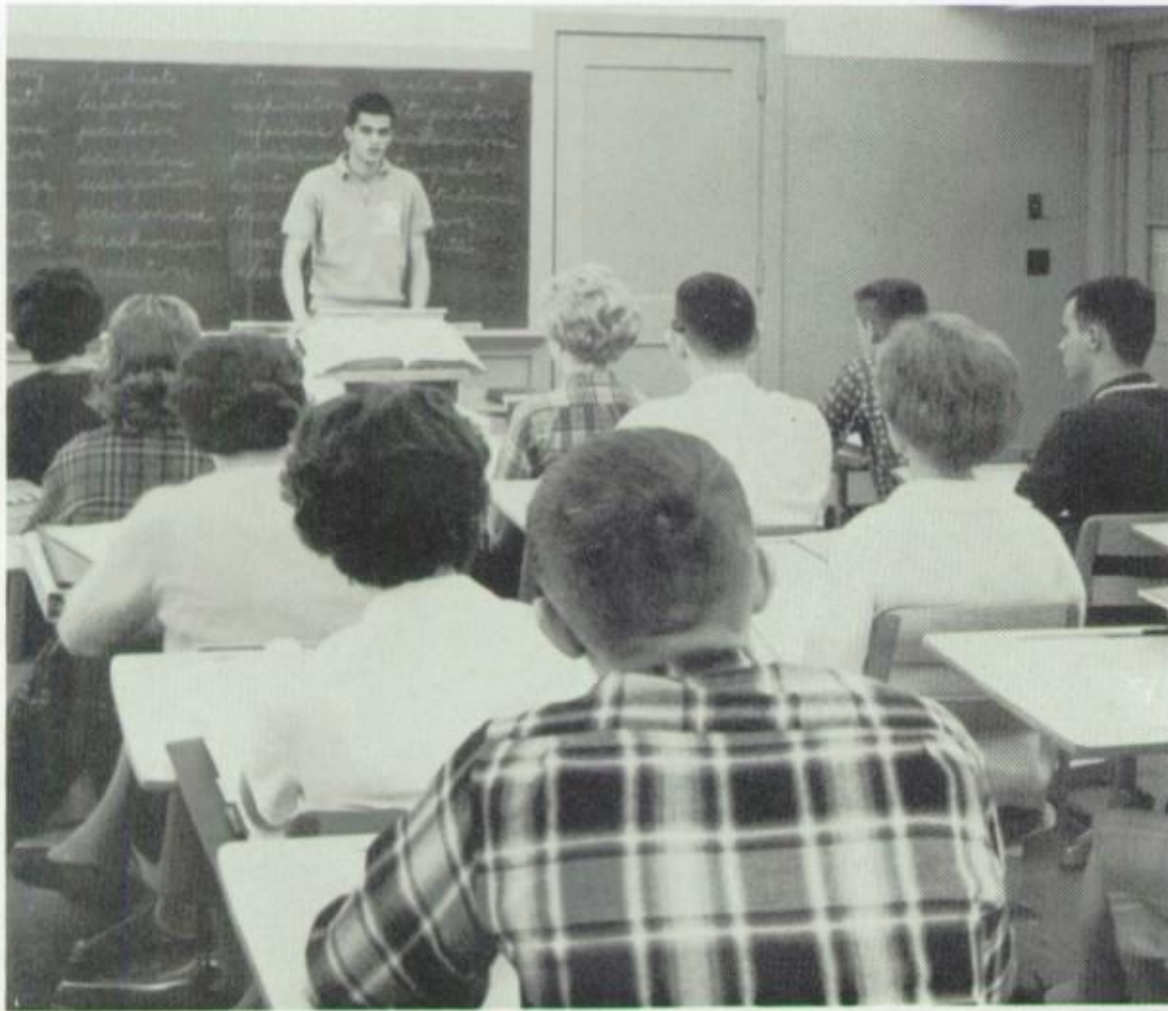

Miss Hildeman, sophomore English teacher, observes the work of her students who, during the first semester, studied World Literature.

English

for college through theme writing and literature study. This year, for the first time, the counselors published news letters explaining college visitations, tests, conferences, and scholarships.

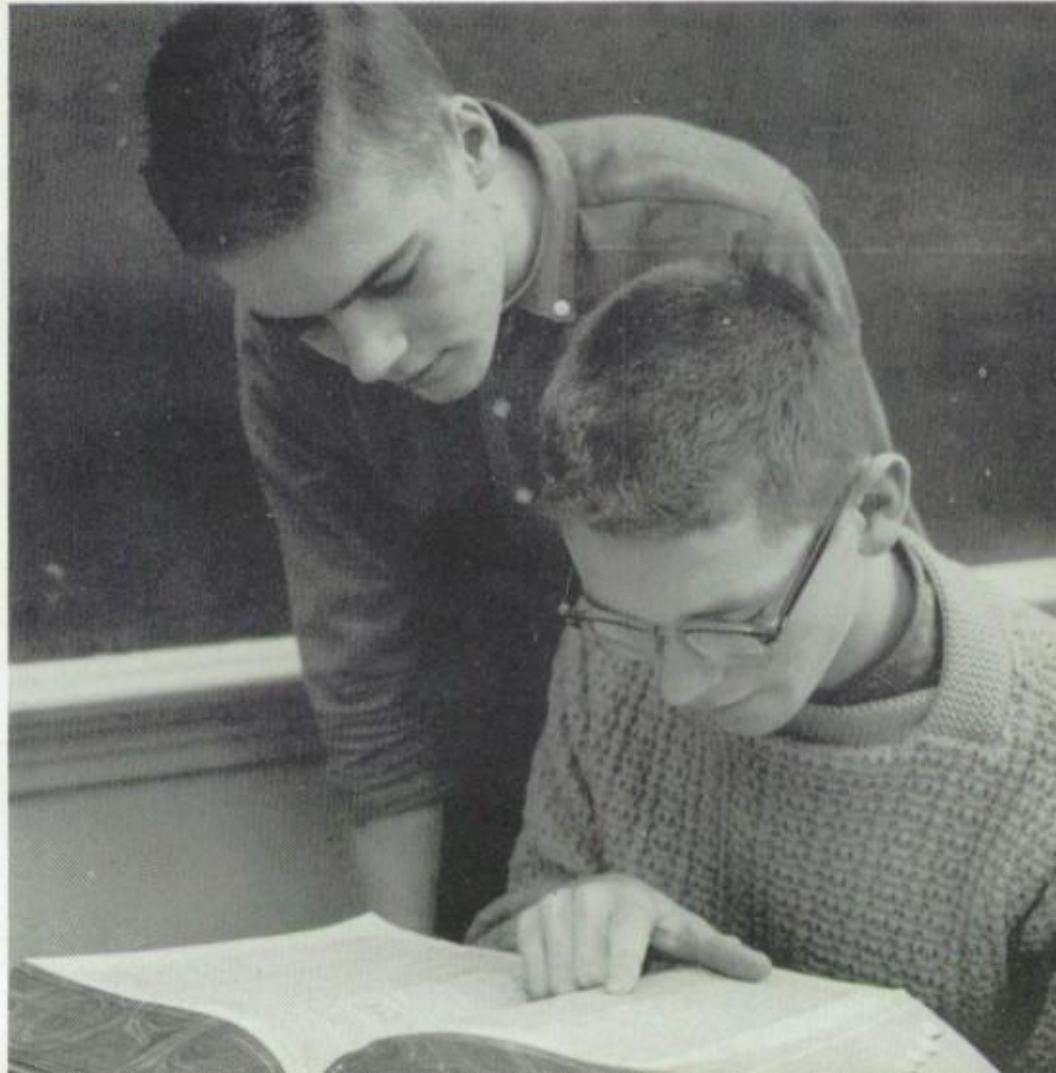

There are 12 English teachers at Hilhi this year, in 54 different classes.

Wendell Cox, junior, presents a book report to one of Mr. Foster's English classes.

Kathy Philpott and Jane Arnold, freshmen, check Mr. Blanchard's paper back rack in his English class.

Juniors, Dave Leger and Bob Anderson, check unabridged dictionary for the spelling of a foreign vocabulary word.

Social Studies

The study of history prepares a student to understand the past and comprehend the future. There are four social science subjects taught at Hilhi.

World geography is a required subject for freshmen. It acquaints them with school policies and extracurricular activities. They also study the culture of other lands.

Juniors take American history, a course designed to acquaint them with our nation's government and history.

American problems is taken the senior year. Its objective is to teach future citizens how to make decisions and give them an understanding of our basic national problems.

World history, the only elective, gives a brief review of the development of civilization.

ABOVE Sandi Moore talks with Nick Tuck about the Declaration of Independence under the instruction of Mr. Kellar, American History teacher.

RIGHT David James, Vick Harwood, and Sandra Miller, freshmen world geography students, look at Russia, our threat to peace, on the globe.

BELOW By using maps and charts, students could better understand the Berlin Crisis, one of many problems studied by the seniors.

BELOW RIGHT Working in a group under the guidance of Mr. Hiester, world geography teacher, are Dan Carty, junior, Myrna Turner, sophomore, and Paul Butcher, senior.

BELOW Mrs. Krahmer's American Problems class reads the Wall Street Journal, while Mrs. Krahmer talks to Patsy Roe and Gary Wagner about how they would spend one thousand dollars.

BELOW RIGHT December 7, 1961 was the twentieth anniversary of the Pearl Harbor bombing which Carolyn West and Don Haynes, American history students, read about.

Math

The mathematics department at Hilhi is designed to meet the needs of all the students entering the school. Freshmen are required to take general mathematics or algebra. A student may then elect his own course of study during his next three years at Hilhi. Other courses offered are second year algebra, geometry, and trigonometry. Consumer's math is also offered which is a review of practical math.

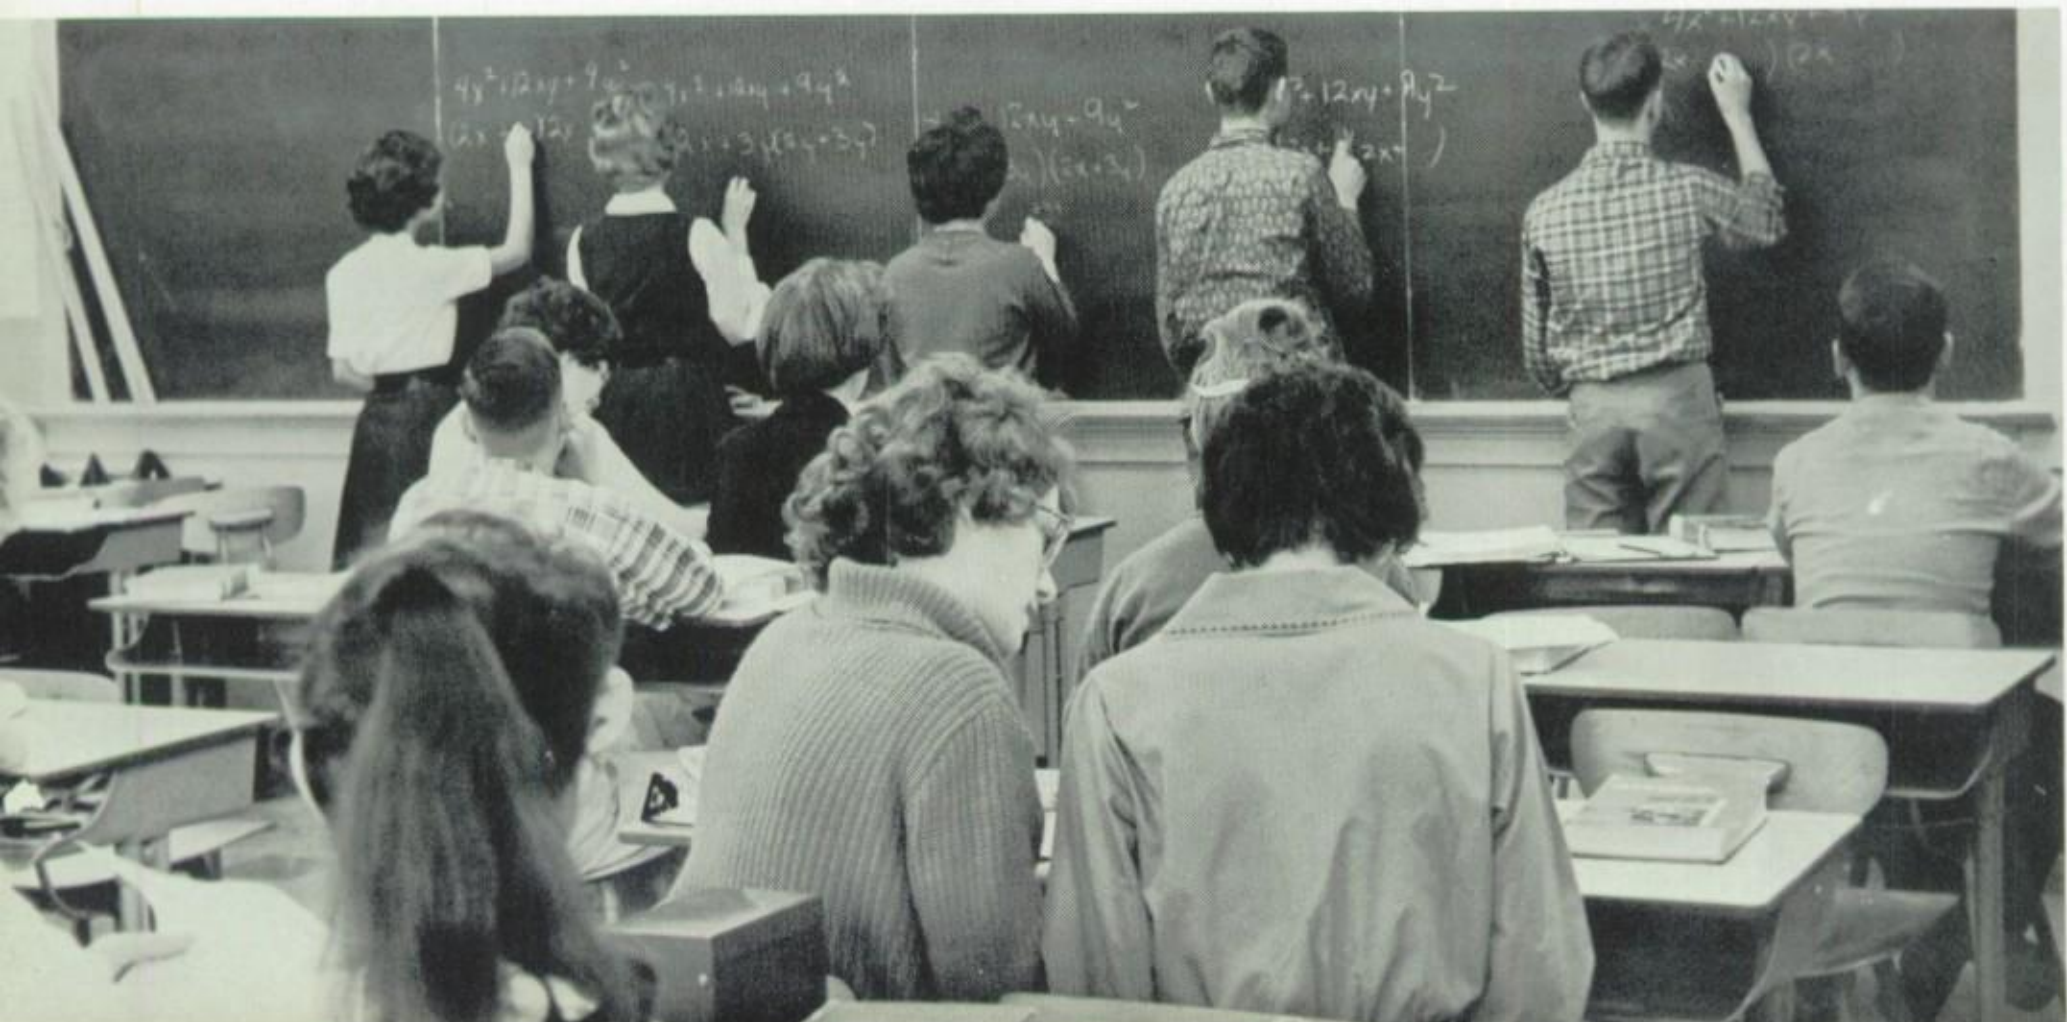

Mr. Sinclair puts answers to previous day's assignment on the board for his algebra students.

Mr. Osmundson points out essential information in one of the problems assigned to his consumer math class.

Second year algebra students immediately find the solution to a problem given by Mr. Philips.

Math

Future plans for the department include more emphasis on modern mathematics and a similar course on the senior level for those having completed successfully the course sequence through trigonometry.

Instructors in the mathematics department include James VanDyke, Theodore Henry, David Leger, Louis McCorkle, Larry Phillips, Edward Sinclair, and Coy Zimmerman.

Nick Tri explains all the essential steps in solving a trigonometry problem as Jerry White and Janice Williamson listen carefully.

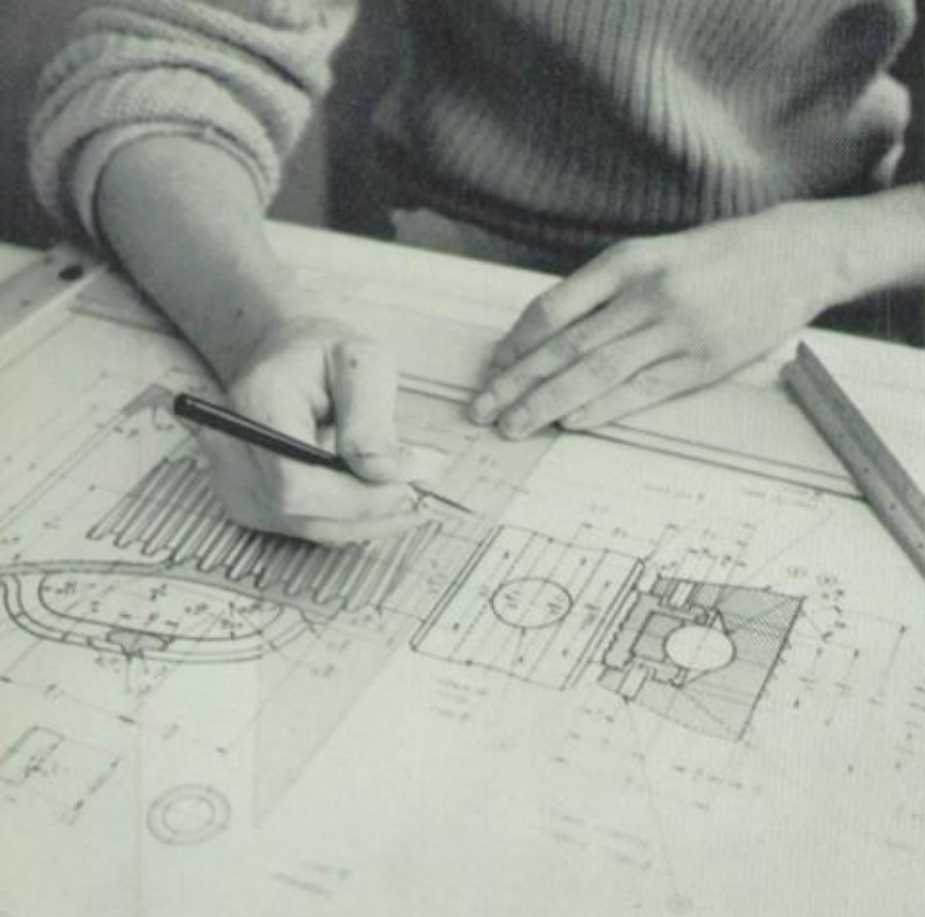

A geometric principle is explained to Bud Smith and Dodie Reser by Terry Tri.

Mr. McCorkle, general math teacher, reviews an important problem with some of his students.

Third year drafting student applies the final lines to sectioned assembly drawing.

Junior, Art Hiatt, checks measurements on work being turned on engine lathe.

Terry Ellis, junior crafts student, planishes a copper bowl while Mr. Going observes.

Industrial Arts

important understandings, attitudes, and skills needed in personal efficiency and economic citizenship. Classes offered at Hilhi are drafting, metal, wood, and crafts.

Vocational Agriculture offers learning situations dealing with modern agricultural processes and procedures.

Both of these subject areas provide an opportunity for the application of information learned by the student in the various curriculum areas offered at Hilhi.

Dennis Sohler demonstrates how to put braces and leg on a mahogany coffee-table as Lynn Conyers, Dave Enselman, juniors, and instructor, Mr. Hobbs, watch.

Agriculture students learn how to arc-weld. Here they put their skill to work by arc-welding a tongue on an irrigation pipe trailer.

Herb Goblirsch, senior second year craft student, tools a billfold back.

Mrs. Grandahl helps Steve and Elaine catch up on latest news in a German paper, the Zeitung.

Foreign Languages

Bonjour, mes amis!

Guten Tag, meine Freunde!

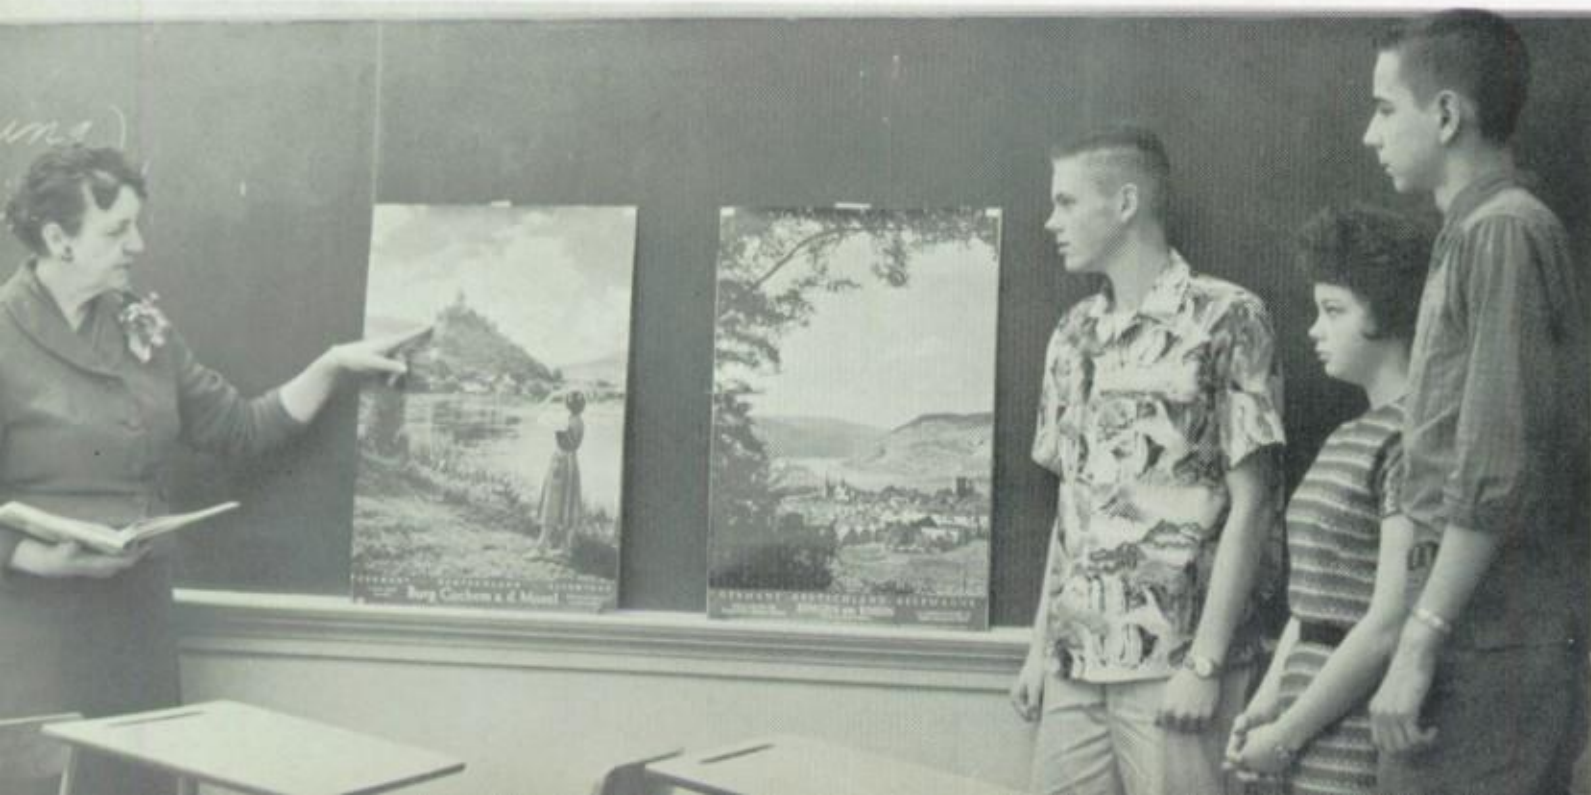

Avete, amici!

Hola, amigos!

Or in other words, "Greetings" in the four languages taught at Hilhi. When the enrollment is sufficient, the third and fourth years in French, German, Latin, and Spanish are offered in addition to the two - year sequence. During the 1961-1962 school year, third and fourth year Spanish students have been scheduled together; third year French pupils are in a second year class because the number of students electing these courses was not large enough for separate classes. The third year German group had a large enough number to form a separate class.

Paul Butcher recites Latin for Miss Edmiston while Judy Harrison and Frauna Carskaden wait their turn.

German landmark is pointed out by Mrs. Grandahl to students Dick Meyer, Pam Lomax, and George Carter.

Foreign Languages

In the modern languages, the four fundamental language skills of listening comprehension, speaking, reading, and writing are stressed in that order. The instruction is largely oral. The student's ear and tongue are trained in listening to and speaking the basic speech patterns and structures of the language; for example, expressions of time, greetings, weather conversations, introductions, and other dialogue situations are immediately usable. The student reads and writes what he has first learned to understand and say.

The language laboratory with its twenty-seven booths, each equipped with a dynamic microphone head-set, is an integral part of the audio-lingual program. Students listen and respond to tapes prepared by the teacher. The classroom work is strengthened by the additional practice in the laboratory.

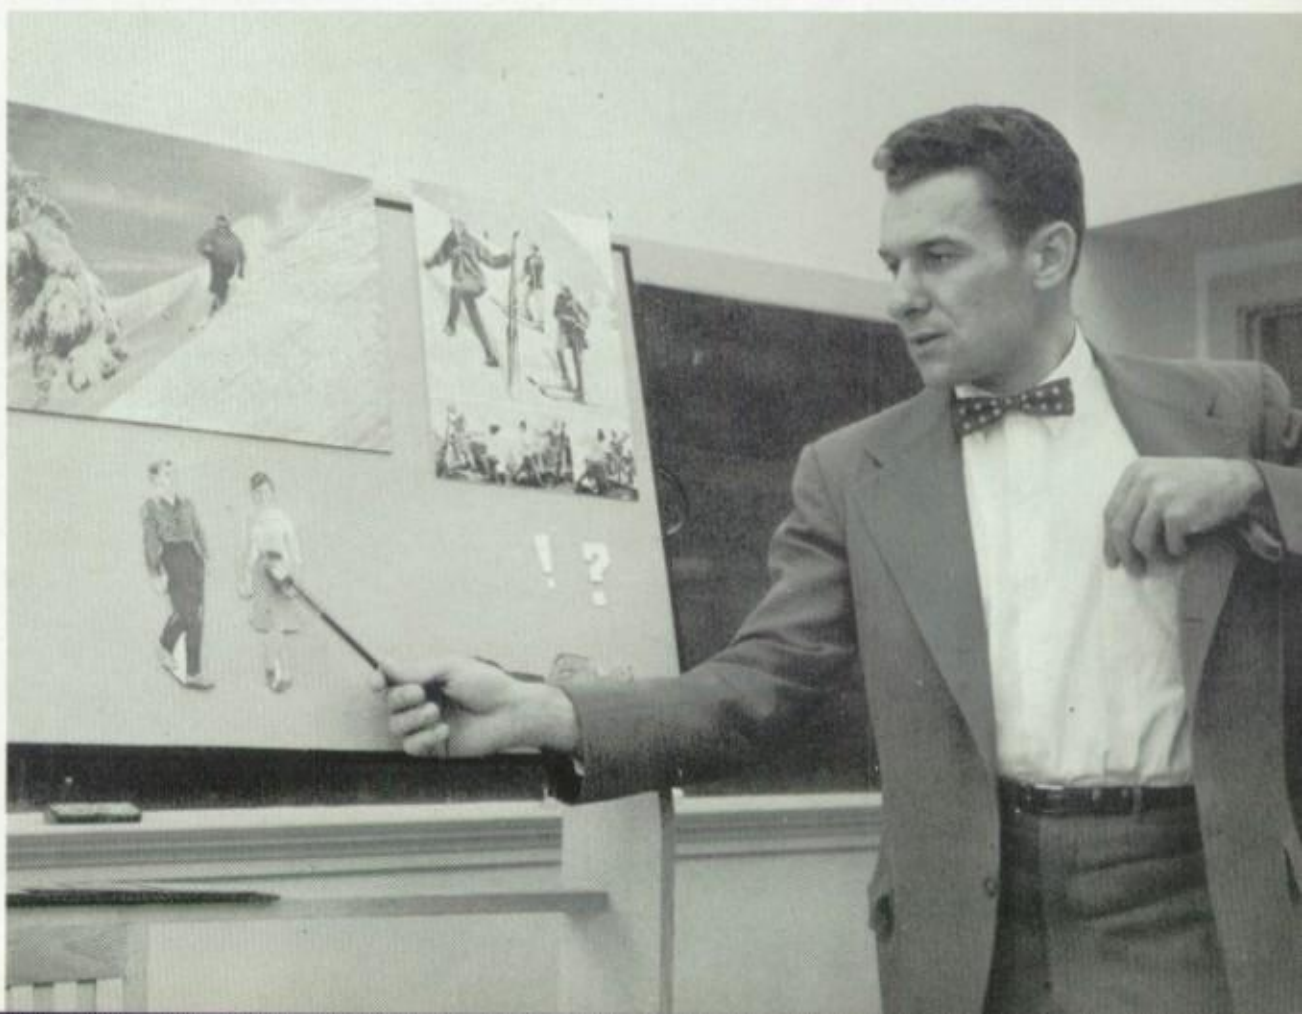

Gay Snow, Kathy Prince, and John Musoto practice comprehension in French by listening to a recording.

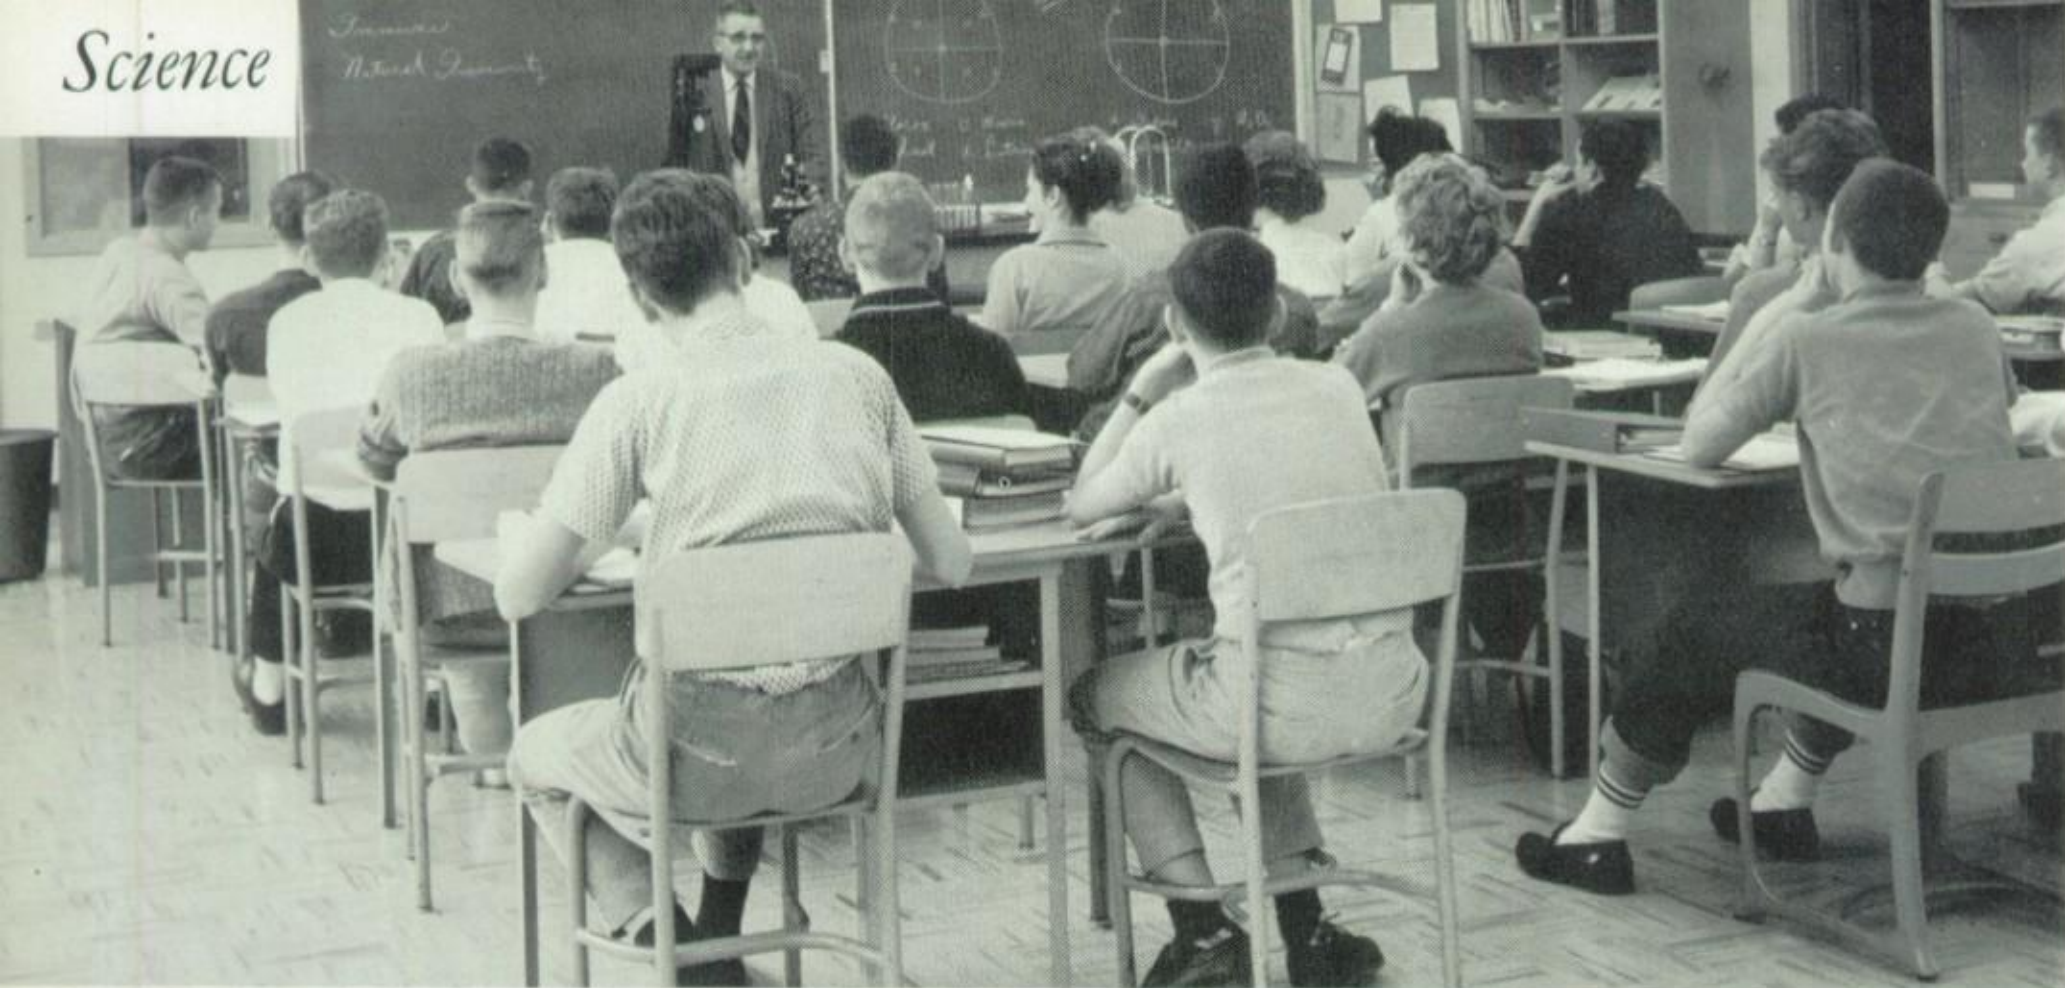

Language laboratory proved useful by Spanish students under supervision of Mr. Taggart.

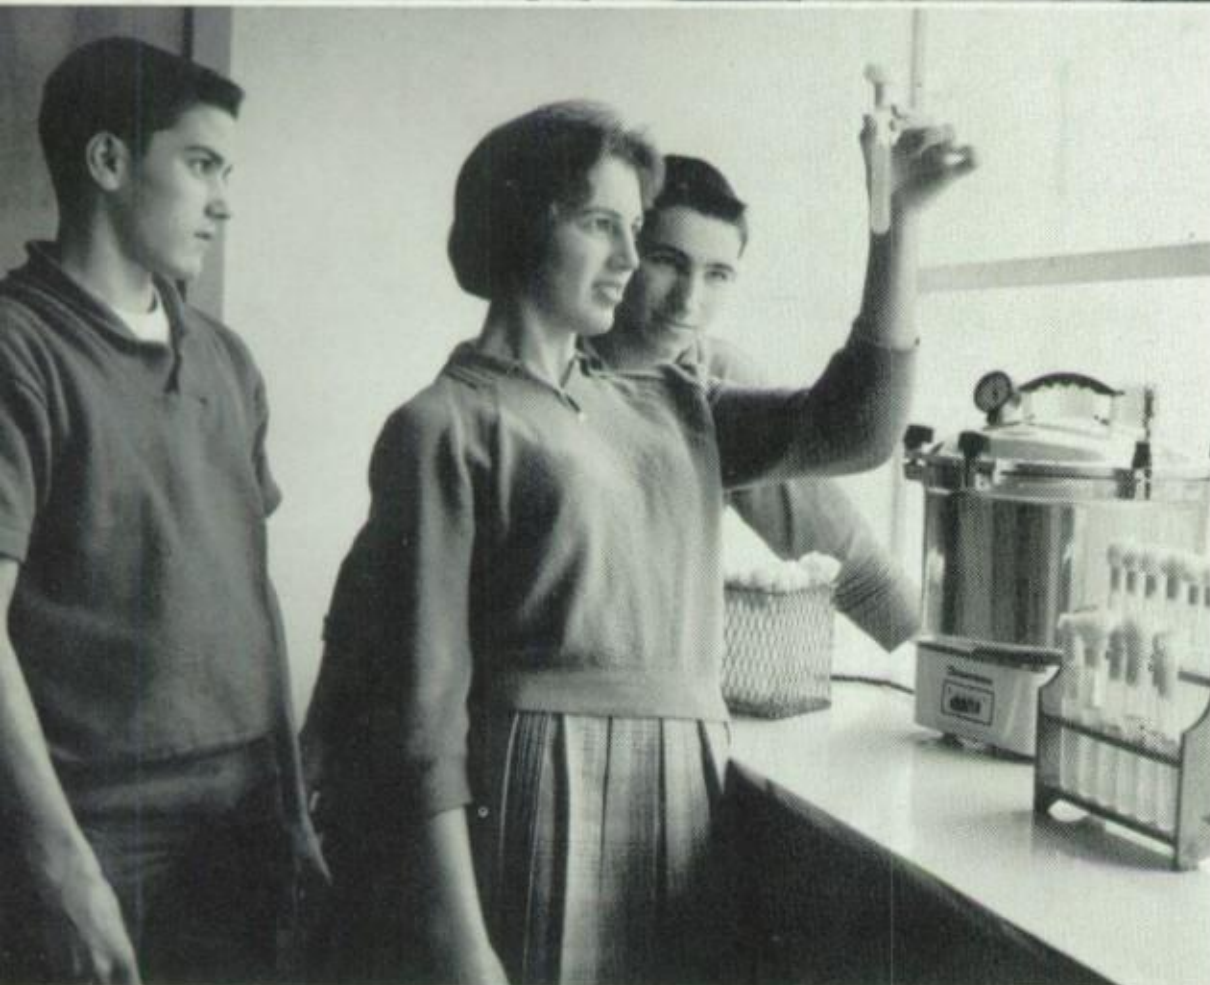

Mr. Karlin illustrates a French lesson by means of a felt board and magazine characters. This is just one of the many new teaching devices used in the foreign languages department this year.

Mr. Poullette, biology instructor, speaks to a group of students.

Larry Barnett, Kathy Simantel, and Tim Furrow, sophomores, use an advanced biology lab to examine certain test tube specimen.

Physical science students, Jean Thruman, Betty Anne Woll, and Bob Price, juniors, examine a balance scale in the lab.

Physics students absorb a lecture from Mr. Denniston.

Margaret Nelson, Pam Erickson, and Jan Baker, sophomores, use a magnifying glass to observe a biology specimen.

Frauna Carskaden, junior, and Chuck Losli, senior, chemistry students, listen to Mr. Doty's dissertation on the stearic acid molecule.

Hilhi's marching band placed first in the Portland Rose parade last summer and was invited to the Tournament of Roses.

Student Council

The 1961-62 Student Council was faced with some new problems, the main one being the split schedule. Student Council met the fourth period each Tuesday. Carl and Jean made a schedule for reading minutes to each study hall without taking any student council member out of class. Student Council helped organize the band trip to Pasadena. They drew up an alma mater, put on a flag raising ceremony, put into effect an election board, put a bulletin board in the cafeteria, bought a movie camera, organized a crazy hat section at the last basketball game, painted garbage cans, had curtains made and a bigger file ordered for the student council room, and continued to have ministers of the Hillsboro area give the devotion at every third meeting.

To promote interest in foreign relations among students of Hilhi is the purpose of the International Relations League. Current world problems are of main interest. The International Relations club is affiliated with the national league. They held a convention this year on the University of Oregon campus. "Disarmament" was the topic of discussion. Seven club members and two advisors attended.

The convention delegates went to Woodrow Wilson high school to discuss disarmament, and arms control, with other high school students in this area before the Eugene convention. The International Relations League also participated in the International Banquet along with the language clubs at Hilhi.

FTA

Under the guidance of Mrs. Lakson, club advisor, the members of the Future Teachers of America learned during the past year about the teaching profession, its opportunities, responsibilities, and its important role in our democracy.

Highlighting the club's list of activities this year was the attendance of club members at the state F. T. A. convention, held at Linfield college in November.

At Hilhi it is no uncommon sight to see a group of boys with heads all bent forward closely scrutinizing some object of interest and with an occasional loud declaration of joy issuing from the group. This is a typical hobby relationship growing out of the interest of Numismatic and Philatelic Society members as they informally meet one of their members who has something in the way of a precious stamp of an old coin. Any possessor of such a treasure naturally is interested and wants to share his find with other addicts of the same hobby interest.

This year more emphasis was placed on building up collections than trying to operate within a rigid framework of regular meetings. All students are invited to join this club and experience real pleasure.

Honor Society

Officers are: Paul Davis, secretary; Tom Zurcher, vice-president; and Vicki Poullette, treasurer.

The purpose of Honor Society is to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in Hilhi students. It is a branch of the National Honor Society, receiving its charter last year from the national offices in Washington, D. C. Eligibility depends on the student's initiative in maintaining an accumulative g. p. a. of 3.2 or better.

Throughout the year, members participated in activities that included compiling the Dean's List and taking part in the Regional Conference at Portland State College.

Tom Zurcher, vice-president, assumed the responsibility of president during the absence of Pete Dinsdale, foreign exchange student in Norway.

Activities and Services

The Hilhilites staff set a production record this year by publishing 17 issues, an increase of five over previous years.

Special 12-page editions were printed during American Education week in November, at Christmas and before commencement.

Staffers responded to the challenge of organizing their responsibilities and meeting deadlines; however, extra time and work often were necessary to accomplish this task.

All work and no play make for a dull person. Staff members took a break from regular duties in October by joining with more than 900 other journalism students at the Oregon Scholastic Press conference on the University of Oregon campus.

In addition to discussing problems and exchanging ideas at the scheduled sessions, delegates were given an opportunity to meet representatives from other schools, both at the official luncheons and banquet and at parties in the Eugene hotel.

Charlotte Parkinson and Susie Keenon, ad managers, get ready to make up an advertisement for one of the accounts.

The annual staff for "61-62" has operated on a new plan, having the printing company lay out the pages in such a manner as to make all pictures of equal intensity. All copy was typed by annual staff typists on the IBM Executive machine newly purchased for that purpose.

In mid September, four staff members attended a conference on photography at Forest Grove, and five members went to the Eugene Press conference in October.

The ten staff members worked first period every day, during Christmas vacation, spring vacation, many Saturdays, and worked many hours after school. Some staff members worked during their study hall. It was estimated that it took about ten hours to complete one page or 2,000 hours of work this year. That time did not include sales.

"Night of January 16" was presented on the Hilhi stage under the direction of Miss Katherine Beal March 8 and 9 this year. An imaginary courtroom was the setting for the entire play. An added feature of the play was the selection of jurors from the audience. For the two nights of this year's presentation, the jury brought in two different verdicts as the cast had rehearsed two different endings.

The same play was presented by the senior class of 1953. Mrs. Joanne Krahmer, American Problems teacher, took part in this production, and Mr. Roy Dancer, speech teacher, was assistant director of the first presentation.

Hector Squassi

Hector Squassi came to Hilhi from Buenos Aires, Argentina. He had graduated from the Escuela Nacional de Comercio, which is a special high school for future businessmen.

Hector applied for the A. F. S. program by taking three tests, dealing with ability to understand the English language and knowledge of culture.

On September 3, Hector came to Hillsboro and was greeted by his American family, Mr. and Mrs. John Neu; his host brother, Roger; and sisters, Marilyn and Paula.

Hector started to school at Hilhi on September 5, taking English, American Problems, and American history--required subjects--and speech, business law, and physical education as electives.

After he goes back to Argentina, Hector plans to continue college, majoring in economic science.

"Something that my United States friends can be sure is that I will never forget the wonderful year, 1961-1962. This year meant for me new experiences, new friends, new understanding, and a real need to use English after studying it for three years in Argentina.

I tried to develop an understanding between Argentina and the United States. Before I came, I was worried a little bit about adjusting to new customs and a new language; but after a few days, I felt very much at home. I am very thankful to my teachers for the help of overcoming language difficulties, the administration, and to the students because they gave to me a sincere friendship that I will never forget.

Also, I really appreciate and have much gratitude to my American family who took me in as one of them; and when I go back to Argentina, I will always think of them as 'my other family'."

Pete Dinsdale

On June 4, 1961, Pete Dinsdale departed for Norway. His trip to Oslo, capital of Norway, by plane, train, and boat took about 15 days. Pete spent three weeks in basic study of Norwegian culture and language at Oslo.

He then went to his new home in Naerbo on the southwest coast of Norway. Here he met his "family:" father Sven S. Risa; mother Anna; son Anders, 21; wife Edith; 19 year old son Svein; and daughter Asta, 15. During the summer, he and his family took a two-week tour of the surrounding region; but most of the remainder of the summer, Pete helped on the family farm.

School began on July 25 and will let out June 15, 1962. His school, largest and best in Norway, has an enrollment of about 700 students from all over the country. His subjects include German, English, Norwegian, physics, trigonometry, and calculus.

Pete has many opportunities for meeting people and for having fun. Every month there is a school sponsored festival with speeches, food, singing, and dancing. Also, there are special events, private parties and dating. Pete goes to the movies fairly often and sees many American films as well as foreign ones.

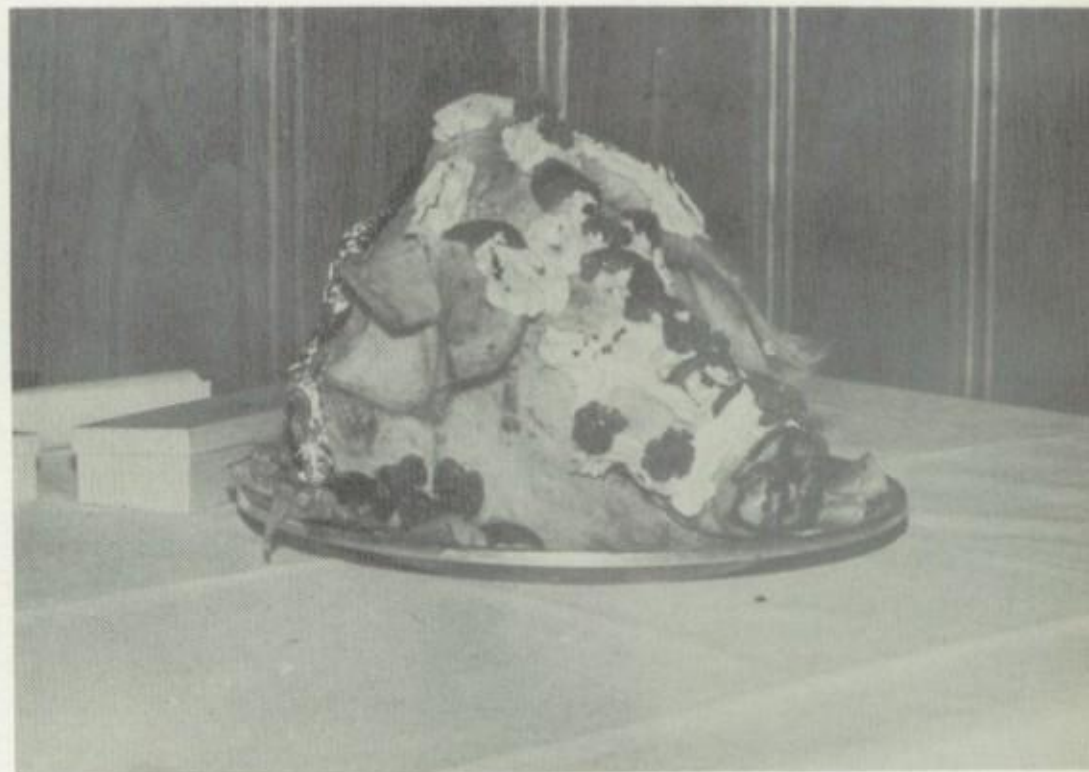

It took about five months for Pete to grasp the language, but it poses no problem now. In fact, from lack of use, he finds English more difficult than Norwegian.

Pete has made many friends, both in Norway and throughout the United States. He met a great many American kids, A. F. S. 'ers from all over the United States, on his trip to Norway.

He says that he feels that this has been the experience of a lifetime. He will return about June 25, 1962.

Pete Dinsdale, senior, is A. F. S. student in Norway.

Barbara Gallusser, student from Switzerland, works on studies in the library.

Barbara listens to favorite singer from Switzerland, Freddy.

I can't think of anything greater in my life than the wish to learn to know another country and its people. This wish was fulfilled in a way that I never dreamed of. I had a chance to see the "Land of Unlimited Possibilities," as the Swiss say it, or in short, America.

People in Switzerland still think, even though they know of the progresses in science and techniques America has made, that the Indians live the same life they did before white men came, except that they are now on reservations and that the most beautiful and adventurous life here is to be a cowboy.

But I found out that the people here aren't as wild after all and more civilized than in most of the places in Switzerland.

It shocked me very much when I realized that I wasn't as homesick as I usually am when I am away from home. But I think this is because I saw so many things that I didn't have time to be homesick. But the real reason for it is that I feel so much at home at the Roy Johnson's.

I am very lucky that I have found such a friendly town and school like Hillsboro, and I would like to thank the school board, my teachers, and especially all my friends for helping to make this year an adventure I will never forget.

From Abroad

Taiwan, an island about 100 miles from the main land China is two thirds mountains. The 10,500 people mostly live in the flat land; most of them are farmers. Fruits and rice are the main crops, some times getting three rice crops a year. Thus, it is called the "Beautiful Treasure Island." Beauty is increased with the trees being green the year around due to the semi-tropical climate.

Except for the women, most of the people prefer western style clothing. Some modern girls like to wear Chinese dress because they show off their figure.

The main food is rice as compared to the westerners wheat. Pork is the main meat and cabbage is most popular of vegetables. Everyone drinks tea. House wives do not have cooking recipes written down; all are kept in their minds.

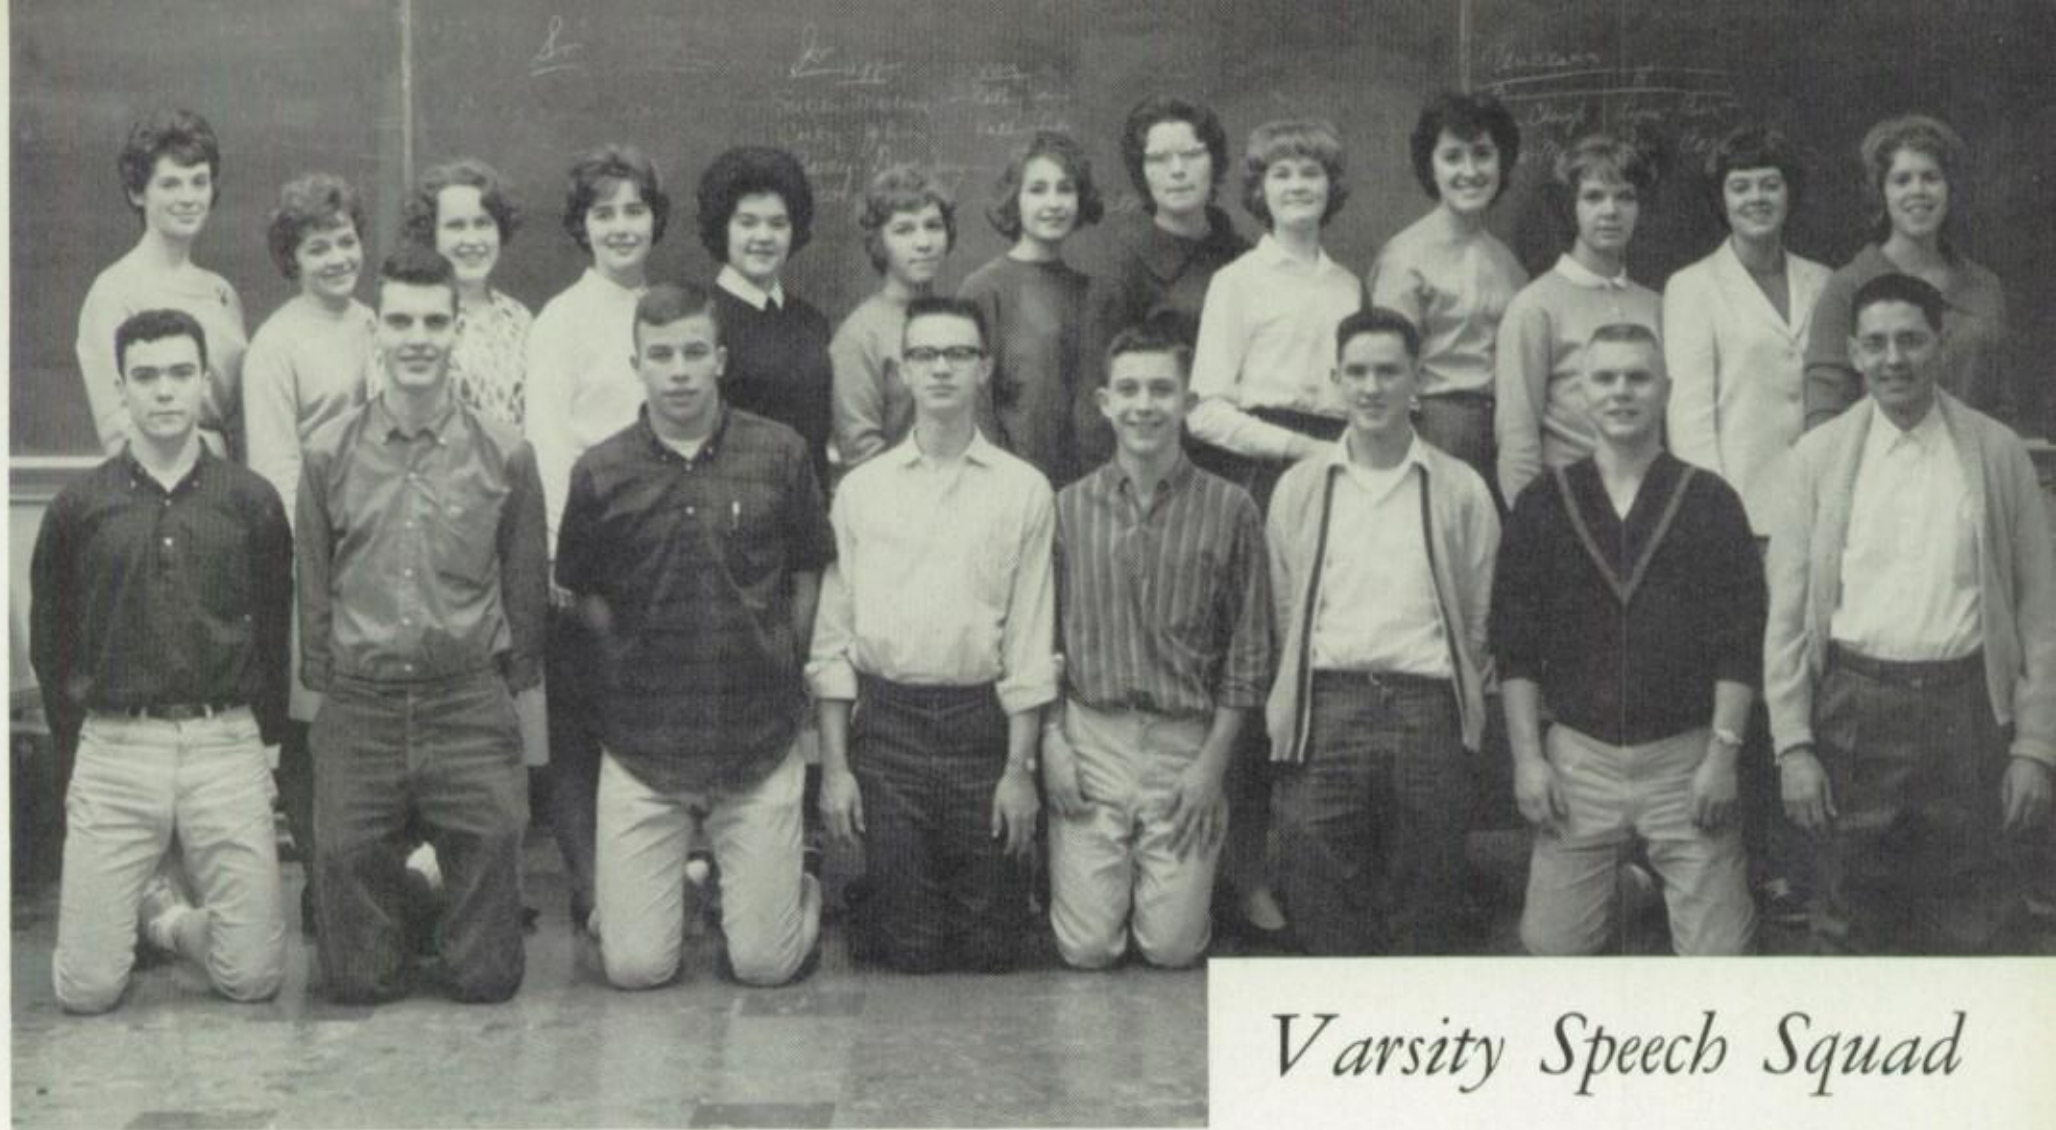

Most of the houses have one or more house girls to do the house work. Not every family is rich, but the labor is inexpensive. Students are unable to find part time jobs because of expensive labor.

Taiwan is famous for its tea, food, silk, hand carvings, and many other items. I hope some of you will visit this island and get to know better.

On to Pasadena

As a result of its winning first place at the Portland Rose parade last summer, the Hilhi band was invited to attend the Tournament of Roses on New Year's Day in Pasadena. A band drive in the surrounding area of Hillsboro raised the $8,000 needed for the members to make the trip.

During their first two days in Pasadena, band members attended Marineland and Disneyland. New Year's Eve, members got to bed early because of the long march in store for them the next day. The parade proved to be difficult and tiresome to the marchers, but after the grueling march was over, members were rewarded by admission to the Rose Bowl game.

On the return trip, the band toured San Francisco and saw Chinatown and San Francisco bay.

After marching practice the band looks forward to lunch at the hotel.

Varsity Football

Hilhi's rally squad turn out to cheer the Spartan team on to victory.

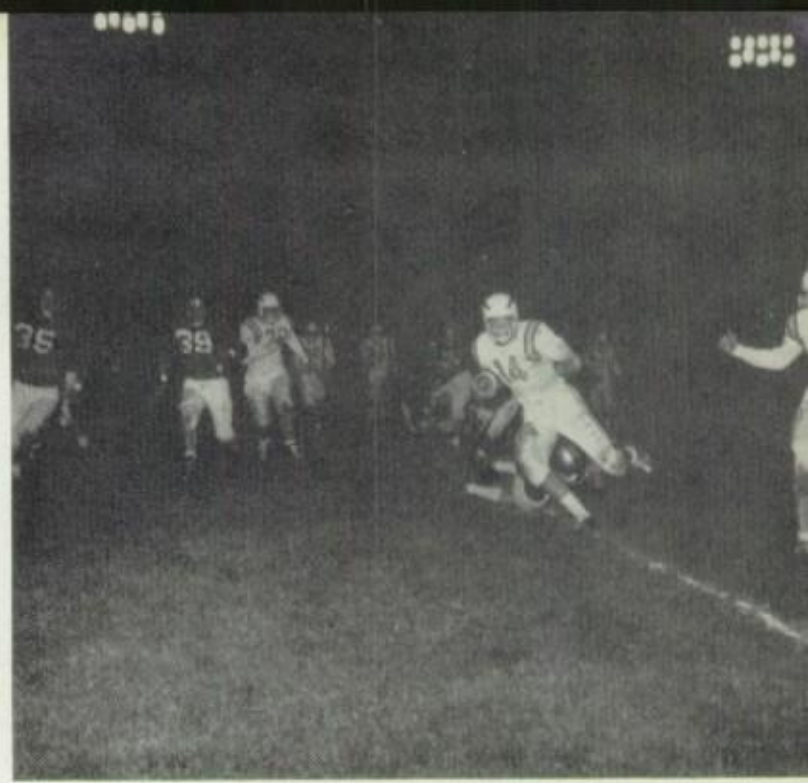

Butch Gillmouth, No. 73, Ron Delplanche, No. 42, and Ron Iwasaki, No. 10, back up the Spartan carrier.

Don Angevine, senior and captain of the football team, carries for the Hilhi Spartans.

Wendall Glaze, No. 14, charges through the Central line with Bill Davis, No. 72, and Ron Delplanche, No. 42, following close behind.

The Spartan men ended the football season in fifth place in Metro League standings. The Hilhi fellows won four, lost three, and had two ties, making this an unusual season, for there have been no tie ball games since the season of 1951. Both the tie games were played on the home field.

The clash with Beaverton was one of the year's highlights. The Beavers were ranked second in the state when the Sparts played them. Coach Ad Rutchman stated, "We held them to their lowest score this year. Our defense against them was outstanding.

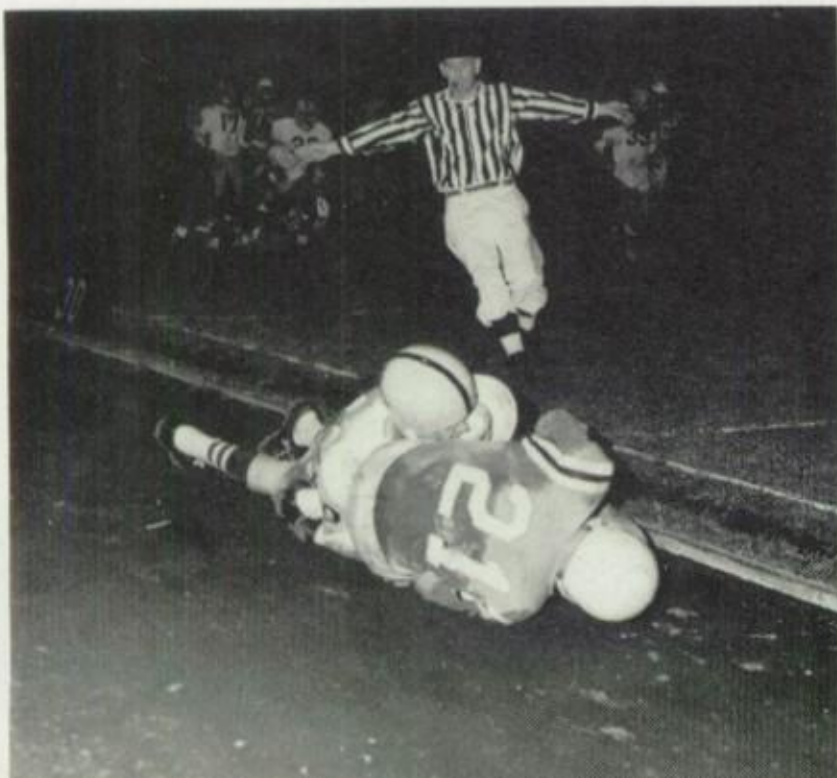

The defensive line held opponents to a low score, and our pass defense proved outstanding. Hilhi's foes completed only 17 of 63 passes for 278 yards and had 15 intercepted. Hillsboro completed 48 of 106 for 533 yards and had 11 intercepted.

Senior, Dave Fox, was named by his teammates most improved; Don Angevine, senior, named captain; Gerald Scrivner and Mike Salveson, seniors, most inspirational.

Hillsboro's gridders outscored opposition, 98-77; led in total yardage, 2120-1779; and also led in first downs, 109-84. Hilhi led in rushing, 1416 yards on 342 plays for a 4.14 average to their opponents 1382 yards on 341 plays for a 4.05 average.

of all the exciting things we have done together

It was a lot of fun
having you in English this year. Maybe we'll get some classes together next year. You and of fun together

this summer, but

Buzzie
It been nice having you in English. I hope to see you next year.
Best wishes to you in the future. Gladly yours

Hi Buzzie --

We weren't in any classes together, but some of those lunchroom scenes got pretty advanced. I really enjoyed going to the doctor with you (trying to beat Pat), and I think the nurse knows me almost as well as she knows you. And just think - if it wasn't for you, all my clothes would be pink, green, or blue. (But I LIKE green!) But in spite of the winter-type weather, summer's almost here.
One more year of slavery is over.
This summer, TRY not to climb out of any windows in your honeymooners. It's too bad ~~the~~ <sup>our</sup> neighbors cut down the apple tree, but way on the other side of their lot is some other kind of tree, so we can still go exploring across the fence in the middle of the night. And practice your badminton so we can scare the garbage man again, okay?

P.S. Everybody else has mentioned your Man Eddie, so just to be different, I won't!
P.P.S. Don't take any wooden nickels or tin gods!

Love always Janie Roy

Glenda,
We have really had some laughs
in school together.
I'll never forget the day
you were playing football.
You have a very nice personality and a beautiful smile. I hope and wish that all your wishes come true in your future years. Have a nice summer. Good luck next year and year is to come.

Love Ya
Always Amy

Glenda - I am certainly glad we are friends. Because I think you are one of the most wonderful people I have met. I really mean it too. We have loads of fun together and if my memory serves me correctly, we have never had a fight, a misunderstanding or anything. I hope we can remain friends as long as we live. I can have I wish you all the luck and dreams come true.
and all your wishes to a dear friend
All my best Love Jay

Bugie,

It has really been a lot of fun sitting in front of you in English. I hope that I didn't talk too much.

I wish I could have a class with you next year but as you know I'm moving. I hope to see you at the pool this summer, you'd better not get too tan. Lots of luck with Ed, you two make a very sweet couple.

Love you

Thanks for doing a great job on "Sammy" this year. Best of luck even if you are a "Tin God Worshiper"
